

Leon Glover Jr.

1935 - 2026

Dr. Leon Glover Jr. passed away in September at the age of 91. Known as Dr. Glover or Dr. Windgage, Leon started working the wind gage with his father, Dr. Leon “Skip” Glover Sr., at Stanford track meets in the late 1940s. Over the next 7 decades, Dr. Glover could always be found recording the wind readings for horizontal jumps, sprint and hurdle races at Stanford and Cal track meets. In 2014, Bruce Colman conducted a fascinating interview with Dr. Glover that was reported in Turns & Distances. The interview may be found at this link: <https://www.pausatf.org/wp-content/uploads/2014/08/offtd7.14.pdf> .
